

WINDERMERE SUITES

Luxury in the Lakes and I don't usually get carried away about such things normally.

The first night, we also took advantage of room service, which is available up until 10pm. However, if you would prefer to sit down to dinner, the 5 Star Howbeck Guest House is next door, and we were told by other guests that it's superb! Already an acclaimed success, the Howbeck has 11 elegant and individually coordinated bedrooms in a delightfully different hotel setting. In fact, the lavish attention to detail and designer style of the Howbeck was the blueprint for Windermere Suites.

"The Howbeck is one of Windermere's top luxury small guest houses, offering elegantly furnished rooms, all en-suites, some with luxury spa type corner baths," says Colin. And the good thing is that it's all within walking distance of Windermere centre, with all its shops and restaurants.

Whether you're looking for a romantic haven, or a luxurious retreat, The Howbeck & Windermere Suites offers a truly unforgettable experience, guaranteed to leave you with lifelong, gay-friendly memories! I've been trying to think of any downsides to my experience, and the only one I can think of is that it didn't last for longer!

THE WINDERMERE SUITES

The Lake District is one of the UK's major tourist attractions, and is a popular destination all year round. The experience has just got a whole lot better – as crAve editor Sam Eastwood found out...

I visit the Lake District several times each year, and when I heard about the Windermere Suites from a friend, I decided that I had to stay there with my girlfriend the next time I was in the area. Husband and wife team, Vicky & Colin Monk, have recently completed a breathtaking £1.6million pound development of their Windermere Suites accommodation in the heart of Lake District. After looking at their website I couldn't wait to sample this stunning transformation.

Vicky says, "Our aim is to provide a unique place to stay. All our rooms are unique, have a classic contemporary look and are finished to the highest standards."

From the moment you arrive, you can just tell that this is going to be great. The Windermere Suites have been specifically designed for couples, - there's amazing mood lighting throughout, and you can even watch TV in the luxurious Italian designer glass-tiled bathroom while sharing a double air-bath! The place is pretty much perfect. The owners tell me they have focused on the luxury aspect, and you find yourself in a constant state of wonder at the attention to detail. Not only that, but the staff are great, too. You won't find any of those awkward moments having to explain you're actually sharing a bed with a girl, here! Bliss.

Eight fabulous suites are available, and each one has been individually designed to offer maximum experience! Each suite has, chromotherapy mood lighting, a 42" wall mounted plasma TV, bathrooms with underfloor heating, oversized double-airbaths, along with walk-in showers, plasma TV bathrooms and a host of individual Vicky. Our suites are perfect for couples looking for a quiet weekend away, honeymooners, anniversary celebrations – or simply for those romantics who just want time together."

From the moment you open your door to the moment you leave you'll be cosseted in style touches to make your stay totally unforgettable. And, if you want contact with the outside world, then there's free wireless internet access available, too. Call me excitable, but I emailed several friends just to tell them how great it was!!

“The Windermere Suites is where boutique hotel elegance meets private retreat comfort.”

"The Windermere Suites is where boutique hotel elegance meets private retreat comfort," says from every angle. Every fitting, every furnishing, every technical element is designer quality. Just amazing!

Myself and my girlfriend had breakfast in bed. There was no wandering down in the morning looking the worse-for-wear for us! The breakfast was amazing,

Where are they?

The Howbeck & The Windermere Suites
The Lake District, New Road,
Windermere, Cumbria, LA23 2LA

www.howbeck.co.uk
www.windermeresuites.co.uk
Telephone: 01539 444 739

